PREFACE.

IN PRESENTING the second edition of the Medical Directory of Greater Boston, we wish to call the attention of the medical profession to the great medical activities recorded in our publication. Colleges have been enlarged and laboratories increased; old State institutions have been extended and new ones established; new State commissions have been appointed and the personnel of the medical boards changed and strengthened; public and semi-public hospitals have been increased in their capacities and equipments; private hospitals have multiplied, and municipal institutions have been established for contagious diseases. Along with the institutional improvements we note the improved friendly feeling existing among medical men as manifested by the increased number of medical societies and by the blending together of medical men, irrespective of medical creeds, in local and State societies or in anything which tends to improve the public health.

History credits Greater Boston with two great events, namely: first inoculation with virus against small-pox, by Dr. Zabdiel Boylston of Brookline, on June 27, 1721, and the first public demonstration of ether anæsthesia at the Massachusetts General Hospital on October 16, 1846.

These are not the only attributes to be given the sons of "Athens of America." Our men have given impetus to every advancement made in medicine and have contributed largely to appendicitis, pancreatitis, puerperal fever, smallpox, tuberculosis, cancer and vaccines.

In the light of such a past, and with the increased teaching and clinical facilities, and especially with such a large corps of earnest and enthusiastic workers, as we now possess, and with two large well-endowed hospitals almost in sight, Greater Boston bids fair to become a leading medical centre and a Mecca for Æsculapian followers.

We wish to express our gratitude to the medical profession for assistance given us, and to the different institutions for furnishing us the necessary data.

We are greatly indebted to Dr. M. Gerstein for his tireless efforts in editing our publication and bringing out certain features of this book.

We tried to make this Directory as useful as we possibly could. We spared no means in completing it. We sincerely hope that it will serve a good purpose.

*HYMN

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, M. D.

Angel of love, for every grief
Its soothing balm thy mercy brings,
For every pang its healing leaf,
For homeless want, thine outspread wings.

Enough for thee the pleading eye,
The knitted brow of silent pain;
The portals open to a sigh
Without the clank of bolt or chain.

Who is our brother? He that lies
Left at the wayside, bruised and sore:
His need our open hand supplies,
His welcome waits him at our door.

Not ours to ask in freezing tones
His race, his calling, or his creed;
Each heart the tie of kinship owns,
When those are human veins that bleed.

Here stand the champions to defend
From every wound that flesh can feel;
Here science, patience, skill shall blend
To save, to calm, to help, to heal.

Father of Mercies! Weak and frail,
Thy guiding hand Thy children ask;
Let not the Great Physician fail
To aid us in our holy task.

Source of all truth, and love, and light,
That warm and cheer our earthly days,
Be ours to serve Thy will aright,
Be Thine the glory and the praise!

MEDICAL COLLEGES.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE.

Organized 1873.

82 East Concord Street, Boston.

The first four years' course of graded medical instruction ever offered in this country was instituted by this School in the spring of 1878. For twelve years it was maintained alongside the older three years' course, and the student was given opportunity to elect between the two. In the summer of 1890 the faculty were satisfied that the time had arrived to discontinue the shorter course and to make the longer one the required course for all students. At that time the announcement was made that the change would go into effect in the fall of 1891; but as several students immediately appeared who were anxious to begin the new course without delay, provision was made for them, and the required four years' course was commenced in the fall of 1890. Since that date the requirement has been four years of professional study before promotion to the degree of Doctor of Medicine. This is one of the most important steps ever taken in America in behalf of thorough medical education.

The School has from its inception been closely affiliated with the Homeopathic Medical Dispensary and the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital; the very marked and continuous growth of these institutions adding greatly to the clinical facilities at the disposal of the faculty. To these facilities there was added in 1886 the Westborough Insane Hospital, where in the course of twenty years upwards of 6700 patients have been treated, thus offering clinics of exceptional value and size. Another addition to the clinical facilities is the Maternity Department of the Hospital, established ten years ago, which, added to the exceptional opportunities for obstetrical work presented by the Dispensary, enables the School to offer its students superior training in obstetrics. The latest addition is the John C. Haynes Memorial Hospital for Contagious Diseases with accommodations for one hundred and twenty or more patients. These combined facilities constitute advantages in the way of clinical work not surpassed by those of any medical school in the country. The Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital, mostly built by private munificence, but enlarged by the bounty of the State, is one of the largest general hospitals under homeopathic management in the world. The new college building contains physiological, pathological and microscopical laboratories fully equipped, each able to accommodate fifty students at the same time; a library capable of holding forty-five hundred volumes; a pathological museum with room for one hundred thousand specimens; and on each of the four stories a fine lecture or reading room and private laboratory or work room. These, added to the facilities afforded by the former school building, make this one of the largest and best equipped medical colleges in the country.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates who have taken their first degree in Arts, Philosophy or Science are admitted without examination on exhibition of their diplomas to the Board of Examiners. A "Medical Student's" Certificate or a "Full Course" Certificate from the Regents of the University of the State of New York, and credentials from those Preparatory Schools recognized by the New England College Entrance Certificate Board, and from such other High or Preparatory Schools as after investigation may be approved by the Executive Committee, certifying to competency in such subjects as are included in the examinations for entrance to this School, will be accepted in lieu of entrance examinations. All other applicants are examined in the following branches:—

1. English.—An essay of not less than two hundred words on subjects to be assigned by the examining board, to be written at the time and place of examination. No candidate will be accepted in English whose work is notably deficient in points of spelling, punctuation, idiom, or division into paragraphs.

2. Latin.—Harkness' or Allen and Greenough's Latin Grammar, with ability to translate at sight classical Latin prose. This ability can be acquired by reading four books of Caesar or their equivalent.

3. French or German.—The translation at sight of ordinary easy prose is the chief feature of these examinations.

History.—An examination in History may be sustained for one in French or German. Myers' General History or its equivalent; Fiske's or Higginson's History of the United States.

4. Mathematics.—Arithmetic including a thorough knowledge of the metric system.

Algebra, to simple equations containing two unknown quantities.

Plane Geometry.

5. Physics.—An amount represented by Gage's Elements of Physics or its equivalent.

6. Chemistry.—An amount represented by Remsen's "Briefer Course," Shepard, or Newell.

A knowledge of biology is not among the requirements for admission, but its importance to the medical student cannot be overestimated. Before entering a medical school a student should have at least an elementary course in Zoology from Protozoa up to Mammalia. The possession of a somewhat comprehensive knowledge of comparative anatomy renders the study of Human Morphology much more simple, attractive, impressive and satisfactory than it otherwise can be.

In 1912 the requirements for admission to the school will be one year of attendance, or its equivalent, at a college or technical school including in its curriculum English, Latin, German or French, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry and Biology.

CURRICULUM OF FOUR YEARS' COURSE.

A thorough and comprehensive curriculum—one sufficient to impart to the student a complete scientific as well as practical medical education—has been arranged. To each term and each year certain studies are assigned, in which the student is required to become proficient before entering upon more advanced studies.

First Year.

FIVE YEARS' COURSE.

In announcing the establishment of an optional five years' course of study, Boston University School of Medicine again demonstrates its claim to stand in the vanguard of medical education. This course meets the demand of the time for increasingly thorough preparation for a medical career, and is altogether in accord with the high traditions of progress and leadership of which the School is justly proud.

The five years' course is offered under the following conditions:

1. That the first four years be essentially as at present arranged.

II. That the fifth year be spent in special laboratory or clinical work under the direction of the Executive Committee and include at least five hundred hours elected from the various courses specified below.

III. That a thesis embodying the results of original work be presented to the Registrar thirty days prior to the date of graduation, the acceptability of this thesis to be decided by the professor to whom it may be referred by the Executive Committee.

IV. That at the discretion of the Executive Committee eight months' service as interne in a hospital of at least fifty beds be accepted in lieu of three hundred hours' work; or twelve months' service in lieu of four hundred hours.

V. That the degree M. B., or Ch. B. be awarded to those students following the five years' course who complete the first four years with a sufficient degree of credit, and that the degree M. D. "cum laude" be conferred upon those who satisfactorily fulfil the final requirements.

VI. Those who already possess the degree M. D. and who present evidence of competency in the full curriculum of this School may be admitted to the work of the fifth year, and upon its satisfactory completion will receive the degree M. D. "cum laude."

COMBINATION COURSE.

The Faculty of Boston University School of Medicine feel that very great significance attaches to the announcement of a new combined course.

In this course, by the cooperation of the College of Liberal Arts and the School of Medicine, a student will find it possible to obtain the academic degree of Bachelor of Science and the professional degree, Doctor of Medicine, by six years' work in Boston University.

POST-GRADUATE COURSES.

Graduates in Medicine, who are approved by the Faculty, will be admitted to the School, and allowed to attend such lectures as they choose, and will be entitled to receive a certificate of such attendance. Those who wish to review any of their past studies, or to investigate new subjects, will have excellent opportunities in the laboratories of the School, as well as in the daily clinics of the Hospital and Dispensary. In order to obtain the Diploma of the School, they must pass a satisfactory examination in the entire work of the senior year, and present evidence of competency in the full curriculum of the School.

The degree Doctor of Medicine "cum laude" will be granted to candidates who, having fulfilled all the requirements of the School, have attained in each study pursued in the School not less than 85 per cent,

The degree Doctor of Medicine "cum laude" will be granted to candidates who satisfactorily fulfill the final requirements of the five years' course.

COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS.

Organized 1880. 571 Shawmut Avenue, Boston.

By unanimous vote of the House and Senate of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, this College was granted authority to confer the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

It was one of the first colleges to demonstrate the practicability of co-education in medical science, by extending full benefits and privileges equally to men and women. By twenty-nine years of steady growth, it is shown that liberality and justice in medical education are widely appreciated.

Students receive thoroughly practical lectures and laboratory work at this College, and particular attention is given to clinical teaching both at the Dispensary and at the bedside in the homes of the poor.

This is a great factor in fitting students to successfully follow out the practice of their profession.

(d) Certificates from reputable instructors recognized by the State board of medical examiners duly authorized by law or by the superintendent of public instruction in States having no examining board may be accepted in lieu of any part of this examination.

Sec. 2. This examination must be conducted by or under the authority of the Board of Examiners or the superintendent of public instruction of the city or State in which the college is located. In no case shall it be conducted by any person connected with the faculty, medical or otherwise, of the institution to which the student is seeking admission.

Sec. 3. A student may be allowed to enter on his medical work conditioned in not more than six points, and these conditions must be removed by satisfactory examinations before he is allowed to enter on the second year of his medical course.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS.

Candidates must be at least 21 years of age. They must have attended four annual courses of lectures of not less than six months' duration each at this College; or, have attended three such courses at some other recognized medical college or colleges, and one at this; or, have attended two such courses at some other recognized medical college or colleges, and two at this; or, have attended one such course at some other recognized medical college, and three at this; or, having been admitted to advanced standing in this College, shall be required to have attended at this College such courses of lectures as shall be necessary to complete the curriculum of four annual courses of lectures in medical colleges, and to have pursued, including the attendance on lectures, the study of medicine for four calendar years. Candidates must have dissected all parts of the cadaver.

Each student is required before graduating to furnish satisfactory written reports of forty medical, ten surgical and six obstetrical cases personally attended and a like certificate of having seen five cases in each of the clinical departments.

The presentation of a satisfactory thesis is a requirement for graduation. If of conspicuous merit it will receive honorable mention; if also of a suitable character, it may be read at the College commencement exercises. Theses must be completed and delivered to the Dean on or before the 15th of May. The thesis which a candidate presents must be written by himself or herself, and must be on some subject connected with medicine.

Evidence of good moral character must be presented (this must include unexceptionable conduct during attendance at the College).

The enforcement of the requirements heretofore announced concerning the fifth year of study in this College is no longer a necessity, thanks to the liberal policy of the City of Boston as manifested by recent acts of the Mayor, Board of Aldermen and Board of Trustees of the Boston City Hospitals, whereby the clinical advantages in the city institutions are henceforth to be opened alike to medical students of all medical colleges; therefore, this College will hereafter grant its regular diploma to duly qualified students who have pursued their medical studies for the four full years.

Each student who has completed the fifth year of study to the satisfaction of the Board of Censors will receive an additional certificate under seal of said Board testifying to that fact.

Degrees with Honor. Desiring to show its appreciation of distinguished merit, as well as to stimulate laudable emulation, the College may confer the degree of Doctor of Medicine "magna cum laude" upon those students whose examinations show superior attainments.

To the member of the graduating class who secures the highest rank in the examinations of the course will be presented a pocket case of surgical instruments.

No prize will be awarded to any student who at the time is deficient in any study of a course which he has pursued, nor to any whose conduct and deportment has been objectionable at any time during the course.

North End Dispensary and Hospital appointments of undergraduates, as clinical assistants, are made at intervals throughout the year. Undergraduates serving as clinical assistants may receive certificates of service when they graduate from the College.

BENEFICIARY.

By a provision of the Shurtleff Fund, established by will of Rev. David Shurtleff, a number of acceptable persons who can give satisfactory evidence of their inability to pay the regular college fees, may be enrolled as students. Income from the above source is influenced by the earnings of stock investments, therefore the number of students who can be received will vary accordingly. Applicants should consult the Registrar.

There will be opportunity offered for a limited number of nurses and special assistants to earn a part of their expenses while in college.

Applicants must have written recommendations of character, satisfactory to the factulty, and must be able to pass all entrance examinations.

It is hoped that as many friends of the College, as are able, will personally provide special funds to aid deserving students. There is no object more worthy of bequest than medical education.

BOARD OF CENSORS.

The Dean, President and Registrar of the college will appoint annually, in June or thereafter, a President, Secretary and not less than five other persons, who together shall constitute the Board of Censors, who shall serve for one year or until their successors are appointed; but no person shall be eligible to membership on this Board except a practising physician in good standing and who is not otherwise connected with the College.

This Board shall meet annually in June, prior to the graduation exercises.

HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Longwood, Ave., Boston.

Three professorships of Medicine were established at the University in the years 1782 and 1783. The first degrees in Medicine were conferred in 1788. Before 1811, the degree conferred upon graduates of the School was that of Bachelor of Medicine; beginning with 1811, the degree has been Doctor of Medicine. In 1810, the lectures given in Medicine were transferred from Cambridge to Boston, where the first Medical College was built in 1815.

The course of study required in this School for the degree of M. D. is of four years' duration. This requirement was established at the beginning of the year 1892-93.

The academic year begins on the Thursday following the last Wednesday in September, and ends on the last Wednesday in June. In order that the time of study shall count as a full year, students of all classes must present themselves on the first day of the school year and register their names with the Secretary.

There is a Christmas recess from December 23 to January 2 inclusive, and a recess of one week's duration in April.

THE NEW BUILDING.

In September, 1906, the Medical School removed from its quarters on Boylston Street to commodious new buildings on Longwood Avenue, distant about a mile from the old building. At the new site the School possesses twenty-six acres of land. Eleven acres are now occupied by the Medical School buildings; the other fifteen are reserved for hospitals which, it is hoped, will be built on this ground in the near future.

The new buildings are five in number: one is designed for administrative and four for laboratory purposes. The administration building contains the necessary offices, several lecture rooms, and the Warren Anatomical Museum. The laboratory buildings provide extensive accommodations for various departments grouped in the buildings as follows: (1) anatomy, comparative anatomy, histology, and embryology; (2) physiology, comparative physiology, biological chemistry, and theory and practice of physic; (3) pathology, bacteriology, neuropathology, and surgical pathology; (4) hygiene, pharmacology, comparative pathology, and surgery.

The laboratory buildings are all constructed on one general plan,—two parallel wings united by an amphitheatre. Above each amphitheatre is a large departmental library.

ADMISSION OF STUDENTS.

I. Students who have acquired from a recognized college or scientific school a degree in arts or science, following the completion of a course of at least three collegiate years, are admitted as regular students and candidates for the degree of M. D., provided they present certificates showing that they have done satisfactory work in chemistry equivalent to two college courses, with laboratory work in each amounting at least to four hours per week. These courses in chemistry should include general chemistry, organic chemistry, and qualitative analysis; some practice in making careful quantitative determinations is desirable. In case the student cannot present such certificates in chemistry he will be required to pass examinations in these subjects. Students who are not quite able to fulfil all of the requirements in chemistry may enter conditioned in chemistry; but they must make up the condition before the beginning of the second term of the first year.

II. Candidates who present certificates showing that they have completed two years of undergraduate work at a recognized college or scientific school will be admitted as special students, provided the are able to read French or German and have taken the following college courses, with at least four hours of laboratory work per week in each. (The minimum proportion of a college year to be devoted to each is indicated.)

Physics (1-4 year).
General Chemistry (1-4 year).
Qualitative Analysis (1-8 year).
Organic Chemistry (1-8 year).
Zoology (which must include dissection of vertebrates and work with the microscope) (1-4 year).

Special students who attain an average grade within five points of the honor mark in their years of residence at the Harvard Medical School will be accepted as candidates for the degree of M.D.

Although students are admitted to the Medical School under the conditions indicated under I, it is recommended to those who propose to study medicine that they include if possible among their studies in college certain courses which serve as a direct preparation for or are aids in the study of medicine. Such studies are:—

Chemistry as outlined under I, and without which students are not admitted to the Medical School.

Physics. A college course in experimental physics extending through the college year and including at least four hours of laboratory work per week. The laboratory work should consist largely of accurate physical measurements.

Biology. Two college courses with laboratory work in each amounting to at least four hours per week. This work should include general biology, the dissection of vertebrates, and practice in the use of the microscope and in microscopic technique.

French and German. Any course requiring considerable practice in reading.

The courses offered by the Harvard Faculty of Arts and Sciences which fit these recommendations are as follows: Physics C; Chemistry 1, 2, and 3; Zoology 1, 2, 3, and 4; Botany 2; together with several courses in French and German.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING.

Students who began their professional studies in other recognized medical schools may be admitted to advanced standing and become candidates for the degree of M.D. under the following conditions:—

All persons who apply for admission to the advanced classes must furnish a satisfactory certificate of time spent in medical studies, must pass examinations and fulfil all requirements of laboratory and practical work in the branches already pursued by the class to which they seek admission, and fulfil all other requirements for admission enumerated under I. Other students who fulfil the requirements for admission enumerated under II may be admitted to advanced standing as special students provided they furnish satisfactory certificate of time spent in medical studies, pass examinations and fulfil all requirements of laboratory and practical work in branches already pursued by the class to which they seek admission. Special students admitted to advanced standing may be accepted as candidates for the degree of M.D. provided they attain an average grade within five points of the honor mark in the years of their residence at the Harvard Medical School.

A graduate of another medical school of recognized standing may obtain the degree of M.D. at this University, after a year's study in the undergraduate course, by passing all examinations and by fulfilling all requirements of laboratory and practical work required in the full undergraduate course, and by fulfilling all requirements for admission. These examinations may be taken only at the times set for the regular examinations in September, February (mid-year examination), and June.

Applicants for advanced standing and graduates of another medical school who have fulfilled in another recognized medical school the requirements of laboratory or practical work of a department of this School may be excused from repeating such requirements, provided the instruction which they have received is considered satisfactory by the Committee on Admission in conference with the head of the department concerned.

DEGREES.

Degree of Doctor of Medicine.

Every candidate for the degree of Doctor of Medicine at this University must be at least twenty-one years of age, and of good moral character. He must fulfil all the requirements for admission to this Medical School; must give evidence of having studied in a recognized Medical School at least four full years, of which one year must be spent at this School; must pass all the required examinations, and fulfil satisfactorily the special requirements enumerated above.

The degree of Doctor of Medicine will be given to those candidates who fulfil the above requirements. The degree of Doctor of Medicine cum laude will be given to candidates who have obtained an average of eighty per cent., or over, in all the required examinations.

Candidates for the degree must make application for it in writing, on blanks furnished at the Dean's office, on or before May 1 of the year in which they propose to graduate.

Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Medicine are not required to present a thesis; but they may present a voluntary thesis which, if of conspicuous merit, may receive honorable mention; if the thesis is also of a suitable character, it may be read at the Commencement exercises. These must be completed and delivered to the Dean on or before the first day of May.

A graduate of another Medical School of recognized standing may obtain the degree of Doctor of Medicine at this University by fulfilling all the requirements for undergraduates above mentioned, but he may take the examination in any subject only at the times when regularly it is held, that is, in September, at the mid-year, or in June.

FEES AND EXPENSES.

The fees are:—For matriculation, five dollars; for instruction, two hundred dollars for each year (if in two payments, at the first, one hundred and twenty dollars; at the second, eighty dollars); for a half-year alone, one hundred and twenty dollars. During the first year there are the following additional expenses: two dollars for each of the three parts required for dissection; three dollars for laboratory materials in Histology; three dollars for physiological material; and a maximum of ten dollars a year for chemical material, in addition to the charge for breakage of glass apparatus.

FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS.

Fellowships.

Bullard Fellowships. In 1891, William Story Bullard, of Boston, gave the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for the establishment of three fellowships of five thousand dollars each "in memory of three physicians who were distinguished for their honorable personal character and for their professional services in this community." Accordingly the three following fellowships were established:—

The George Cheyne Shattuck Memorial Fellowship; The John Ware Memorial Fellowship; The Charles Eliot Ware Memorial Fellowship. The income of the first two is two hundred and twenty-five dollars each, and of the last, two hundred and fifty dollars.

The income of the first two is two hundred and twenty-five dollars each, and of the last, two hundred and fifty dollars.

The income from any one or all of these fellowships may be paid to any student or member of the medical profession who shall be selected by the Administrative Board of the Medical School to make such original investigations in Medical Science as in their opinion will be most useful to the profession and to the community. The results of such investigations shall not, however, be published as a research performed under the grant of a Bullard Fellowship, unless the work shall have received the approval of the Committee. If published with the approval of the Committee, mention shall be made of the fact that the work was done under a Bullard Fellowship.

Holders of Bullard Fellowships are required to do an amount of work equivalent to not less than ten hours a week throughout the academic year and to present to the Committee at the end of the academic year a report on the amount and result of the work performed.

Applications for the Bullard Fellowships must be handed to the Dean on or before October 1.

Charles Follen Folsom Teaching Fellowship. In 1908 eleven thousand eight hundred and forty-three dollars and sixty-four cents was given by more than sixty persons in memory of Charles Follen Folsom, A.B. 1862, M.D. 1870, Lecturer on Hygiene, 1877-79, on Hygiene and Mental Diseases, 1879-80, on Mental Diseases, 1880-82; Assistant Professor of Mental Diseases, 1882-85, and Overseer, 1891-1903. It was the desire of the givers that there be established in the Medical School a Charles Follen Folsom Teaching Fellowship in Hygiene or in Mental and Nervous Diseases, and that the incumbent receive the annual income of the fund, or such part of it as may be consistent with the standing rules of the Corporation in such cases. This fellowship, with an income of five hundred and twenty-five dollars, has been assigned to the Department of Hygiene until the further order of the President and Fellows.

Austin Fellowships. Six teaching fellowships, of five hundred dollars each, have been established from the income of the Austin Fund and assigned to the Medical School.

Proctor Fund. A bequest of fifty thousand dollars by Ellen Osborne Proctor for the purpose of promoting the study of chronic diseases. The income of this fund is to be devoted to the care in hospital of persons afflicted with chronic disease, and to investigations into the nature and treatment of the same.

The special disposition of the income of this fund is under the control of the heads of the departments of Theory and Practice of Physic, Clinical Medicine, and Pathology.

Scholarships.

The Cheever Scholarship is awarded to a student of the first-year class. The Hayden Scholarship may be so awarded. All the other Scholarships are awarded to members of the three upper classes.

Edward M. Barringer Scholarships. From the estate of Edward M. Barringer, of Schenectady, N. Y., thirty thousand two hundred and thirteen dollars and forty-nine cents has been received as his residuary bequest establishing the "Edward M. Barringer fund." "And I direct that the said 'President and Fellows' forever maintain from the income of said rest and residue (if the same shall be sufficient) two scholarships for students in said Medical School, the annual amount or value of such scholarships to be fixed from time to time by the said President and Fellows in their best discretion, but at not less than $300 and $200 respectively; and with such conditions as to them shall seem best, to be called respectively 'Edward M. Barringer Scholarship No. 1,' and 'Edward M. Barringer Scholarship No. 2.'" These scholarships, with the incomes named above are awarded to deserving students, preferably those of the fourth class.

Lucius F. Billings Scholarship, with an income of two hundred and twenty-five dollars, was founded in 1900 from a bequest under the will of Lucius F. Billings. The income may be divided between two or more students.

The James Jackson Cabot Scholarship; with an income of two hundred and seventy-five dollars. In 1906, Arthur T. Cabot, Samuel Cabot, and Guy C. Cabot gave six thousand dollars to establish the James Jackson Cabot Fund in the Medical School. The income remaining after adding a certain percentage to the principal each year is preferably, but not necessarily, to be used for a scholarship "to aid and encourage practical work in scientific medicine."

David Williams Cheever Scholarship, with an income of two hundred and fifty dollars, was founded in 1889 by David Williams Cheever, M.D., LL.D., of Boston, of the Class of 1852. It is to be awarded to a poor and meritorious student of the first year, after three months' probation in the Medical School.

Orlando W. Doe Scholarship. The bequest of Orlando Witherspoon Doe (A.B. 1865, M.D. 1869) was five thousand dollars. One-half of the income derived therefrom, amounting to one hundred dollars, "is to be given annually as a scholarship to a deserving student in the Medical department."

Joseph Eveleth Scholarships. Three Scholarships with an annual income of two hundred dollars each. Founded from the residuary bequest of thirty-seven thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven dollars and fourteen cents, made by Joseph Eveleth, of Boston, "for aiding deserving and indigent young men in obtaining an education in said College or any of the schools connected therewith." Three Scholarships on this foundation have been assigned to the Harvard Medical School.

The Lewis and Harriet Hayden Scholarship for colored students was founded in 1894 from a bequest of Mrs. Harriet Hayden. The income, two hundred and fifty dollars, may be divided between two or more students.

M. Sweetser. The income is to be "devoted to the aid of poor students of ability who would not otherwise be able to continue the studies necessary for their profession."

The John Thomson Taylor Scholarship, with an income of two hundred and fifty dollars, was founded in 1899 by Mrs. Frederic D. Philips in memory of her brother, John Thomson Taylor, who died in 1889. He was a student of the Medical School from 1887 to 1889.

Edward Wigglesworth Scholarship, with an income of two hundred and fifty dollars, was founded in 1897 by the family of the late Edward Wigglesworth, of the Class of 1861, M.D. 1865, the yearly income of the fund to be paid to a needy and deserving student of the Medical School whom the Administrative Board shall recommend.

Francis Skinner Fund. A fund of five thousand dollars was established in 1905, the income of which shall be placed at the disposal of the Dean of the Medical School to be used by him in small sums to meet the urgent needs of meritorious students in the payment of term-bills or other expenses. Two hundred dollars is available annually.

This fund remained as an anonymous gift until 1908, when by vote of the President and Fellows of Harvard College it was named the Francis Skinner Fund in honor of the late Francis Skinner, Esq., the donor.

Cotting Gift. The income of a fund received from the late Dr. Benjamin E. Cotting will be given to such medical student or students as the Administrative Board may select, having regard to the pecuniary needs, intellectual capacity, faithfulness and earnest endeavor, rather than to highest scholarship merely. The amount to be awarded annually will be one hundred and twenty-five dollars.

John Foster Fund. The income of the John Foster Fund, amounting to about one hundred and fifty dollars, is available in alternate years in the Law School and in the Medical School, for one or more meritorious students needing assistance. The next assignment in the Medical School will be made in 1910.

These scholarships and gratuities are awarded to such men among those applying for and needing assistance as give evidence of having done the best work either in this School or in preparatory course elsewhere.

All applications for scholarships or pecuniary aid, except for the Cheever and Hayden Scholarships, must be handed to the Dean on or before May 1.

Applications for the Cheever and Hayden Scholarships must be handed to the Dean on or before November 30. These scholarships are open only to students who are members of the school at the time of application.

Blank forms, on which all applications for pecuniary aid must be made, may be obtained at the Dean's office.

PRIZES.

Boylston Medical Prizes.—These prizes, which are open to public competition, are offered annually for the best dissertations on questions in medical science proposed by the Boylston Medical Committee.

At the annual meeting held in Boston in 1909 a prize was awarded to Dr. Francis H. McCrudden, for an essay entitled "The Quantitative Separation of Calcium and Magnesium in the Presence of Phosphates and Small Amounts of Iron; devised especially for the Analysis of Foods, Urine and Feces."

COURSES OF STUDY FOR GRADUATES.

The Faculty has arranged, for graduates of recognized medical schools, an improved plan of instruction, embracing nearly all the branches of practical and scientific medicine. It is designed to supply good opportunities for clinical and laboratory study.

The laboratories of the School are well equipped for practical work, and the clinical advantages offered by the hospitals of Boston furnish abundant material for all purposes of instruction.

Instructors in the Medical School are members of the medical and surgical staffs of these institutions, to all of which students are admitted under their immediate supervision.

All regular lectures (not clinical) in the undergraduate department of the School are open to men doing graduate work during their connection with the School.

Instruction is conducted in small classes and under the personal direction of the heads of departments.

Instruction is given throughout the academic year, October to June.

FEES.

The fees for the separate courses in the several departments vary from $5 to $125.

An extra fee is required for the use of material in laboratory, dissecting, and operative courses.

Graduates seeking admission to any of the graduate courses must first register their names at the Dean's office at the Medical School, where all fees are payable, and obtain a receipt to be shown at the first exercise.

For further information and full description of the courses and lectures for graduates, address the Dean, Harvard Medical School, Longwood Avenue, Boston, Mass.

SUMMER COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.

During the summer of 1910, courses in many branches of practical and scientific medicine will be given by teachers in the School. These courses will be clinical in character and will be given at the Hospitals and Dispensaries by the physicians and surgeons on duty. Practical instruction will also be given in several of the Laboratories of the School by the instructors in charge. These courses are open only to graduate and undergraduate students of medical schools recognized by the Faculty of Medicine, and to such others as the Dean of the Faculty approves.

A list of the Summer Courses will be announced early in the Spring. For further information address the Director of the Harvard Summer School of Medicine, Harvard Medical School, Boston, Mass.

TUFTS COLLEGE MEDICAL SCHOOL.

416 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Mass.

The Tufts College Medical School was established in Boston in 1893. Women are admitted upon the same terms as men. Since its establishment its rapid growth is believed to be without precedent in the history of American medical schools. It is now the largest medical school in New England. Three times it has been found necessary to change the location of the School to provide larger laboratory facilities for the constantly increasing number of students. In 1900 it was voted by the Trustees to provide a new building for the combined Medical and Dental departments. Land was purchased upon the corners of Huntington and Rogers avenues and Courtland and Drisko streets, and ground was broken for the new medical school early in the autumn. This building is occupied by the combined Medical and Dental Schools. It is constructed of Jonesport red granite and brick, with terra-cotta trimmings. It contains nearly an acre and a half of floor space; is heated and ventilated throughout by both the direct and the indirect systems; and is lighted by electricity. Modern improvements have been introduced in all departments, and no expense has been spared to make it the best-aranged structure of its kind in New England. The building can be reached by all Huntington Avenue-Subway cars, except the Roxbury and Dorchester lines.

SESSIONS OF THE SCHOOL.

The annual course of lectures begins on the last Wednesday in September of each year, and continues thirty-six weeks until the second Wednesday in June.

VACATIONS.

There are no exercises at the School during three days at Thanksgiving, a week at Christmas, and a week in April, nor upon Washington's Birthday, Patriot's Day and Memorial Day.

OUTLINE OF THE COURSE.

The course of study is a graded one, covering four annual sessions. In general the first two years consist of didactic and laboratory work; the last two years are chiefly clinical. During the latter part of the fourth year a certain latitude is allowed in the choice of elective subjects, but the course is otherwise uniform and the required subjects cover thoroughly the general ground of medicine, surgery, and the important special subjects.

For the first thre years the school session is divided into two semesters of seventeen weeks each.

First Year.—First Semester.

Anatomy—Lectures, recitations, demonstrations and dissecting. Twenty-eight hours a week.

Histology—Lectures, recitations, demonstrations, and laboratory work. Nine hours a week.

Elementary Hygiene—Lectures. One hour a week, ten lectures.

Second Semester.

Applied Anatomy—Lectures and demonstrations. Three hours a week.

Embryology—Lectures, recitations, and laboratory work. Three hours a week.

Physiology—Lectures, recitations, demonstrations, conferences, and laboratory work. Twenty hours a week.

General Chemistry—Lectures, recitations and laboratory work. Eleven hours a week.

Second Year.—First Semester.

Medical Chemistry and Toxicology—Lectures, recitations, demonstrations, and laboratory work. Twenty-three hours a week.

Second Semester.

Materia Medica and Therapeutics—Lectures, recitations and laboratory work in Pharmacology. Twelve hours a week.

Pathology—Lectures, recitations, demonstrations, and laboratory work. Twenty-five hours a week.

Bacteriology—Lectures, recitations, demonstrations, and laboratory work. Five hours a week.

The following subjects are given throughout the school year:

Physical Diagnosis—Lectures, demonstrations, recitations, and section exercises. Forty-eight hours in all.

Bandaging and Surgical Technique—Lectures, demonstrations, and section exercises. Twenty-four hours in all.

Third Year.

The following subjects are given throughout the school year:

Theory and Practice—Lectures and recitations. Three hours a week.

Surgery—Lectures and recitations (three hours), and one clinical lecture. Four hours a week.

Obstetrics—Lectures, recitations, and demonstrations. (Attendance upon at least two cases of labor is required). Three hours a week.

Diseases of Children—One lecture at the school and one clinical lecture. Two hours a week.

Medical Diagnosis (including preliminary work in Clinical Medicine)—Lectures and recitations (three hours a week), and clinical lectures (two hours a week). Five hours a week.

Hygiene and Sanitation—Lectures. One hour a week. This course gives, in addition, lectures and demonstrations in Sanitary Chemistry. Sixteen hours.

Ophthalmology—Twenty-four lectures.

Laryngology—Twenty-four lectures.

First Semester.

Neurology—One clinical lecture a week. Sixteen lectures and eight hours of laboratory work in Neuro-Pathology.

Hematology—Sixteen lectures and twenty-four hours of laboratory work.

Second Semester.

Pulmonary Diseases and Climatology—One clinical lecture a week.

Gynaecology—Lectures and recitations. Three hours a week.

Genito-Urinary Diseases—Sixteen lectures.

Fourth Year.

The fourth year is divded into three periods:—

The first period (twelve weeks) ends at the Christmas recess. The second period (thirteen weeks) ends at the spring recess. The third period (six weeks) follows the spring recess.

The work of this year is essentially clinical, and largely in sections.

The work of the fourth year is required and elective.

The required work includes a continuation of the clinical work in the general subjects of medicine and surgery, and a grounding in the essentials of those specialties which have not been studied in the third year. The most of these special subjects are completed before the Christmas recess.

The elective work is a continuation of the work of the required course along selected lines. The student is required to take a certain amount of work, but may exercise his choice as to what he will elect from a large number of subjects offered.

Electro-Therapeutics—Lectures. One hour a week during first period (twelve weeks).

Clinical Gynaecology—Clinics (in small sections during first and second periods (twenty-five weeks). Conferences once a week during second period (thirteen weeks).

Medical Jurisprudence—Lectures and demonstrations. One hour a week during first and second periods (twenty-five weeks).

Dermatology—Clinical lectures. Two hours a week during second and third periods (eighteen weeks).

Operative Surgery and Surgical Anatomy—This course is a subdivision of Clinical Surgery, and consists of lectures, demonstrations, and section work in operations on the cadaver. Three hours a week for twelve weeks (second and third periods).

Mental Diseases—Lectures and clinical visits at hospitals for the insane. Two hours a week during second and third periods (eighteen weeks).

Genito-Urinary Diseases—Clinics during first period in sections. (Twenty-four hours—see below.)

REQUIREMENTS.

For Admission to the First-Year Class.

Candidates for admission to this School, except as hereafter stated, must pass a written entrance examination in English, Algebra, Plane Geometry, Physics, Latin, and one subject to be chosen from the following: American History, Biology, Chemistry, French or German.

Every candidate is expected to have read intelligently all the books prescribed.

(b) Algebra: The fundamental operations factors, fractions, simple equations, simultaneous equations of the first degree, involution and evolution, exponents, and quadratic equations. Texts similar to those of Wells or Wentworth are suggested for study.

(c) Plane Geometry.

(d) Physics: An examination suited to those who have studied such text-books as Gage's Elements of Physics, or Carhast's and Chester's Elements of Physics.

(e) Latin: A sight translation of elementary Latin; as, for example, the first fifteen chapters of Caesar's Commentaries; also the translation into Latin of easy English sentences involving the same vocabulary.

(f) In addition to the above, the candidate must present himself for examination in one of the following subjects:—

1. American History: The text-book suggested is McLaughlin's History of the American Nation.
2. Biology: The text-books suggested are Colton, Zoology, Descriptive and Practical; Jordan, Kellogg and Heath, Animals; Kingsley, Elements of Compartive Zoology; Needham, Lessons in Zoology.
3. Chemistry: The text-book suggested is Newell's.

MEDICAL LIBRARIES.

THE BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL LIBRARY.

This library building was opened March, 1892. It consists of a spacious reading room in which the Medical Staff holds its meetings, and examinations for Internes are held. There are about 3,600 bound volumes, made up of reference books and medical journals. The two other rooms contain the records,—the largest collection in Boston,—pamphlets and monographs.

It is a beautifully appointed library. Open to the Medical Staff and House Officers of the Boston City Hospital only. The arrangement of the records gives considerable credit to the Librarian, Librarian in charge--Miss Power.

BOSTON MEDICAL LIBRARY.

Organized 1875. The object of this Association is to maintain a library of books, journals and pamphlets on medical and scientific subjects. All persons who may be approved by the committee on admissions are eligible to membership. The library is located at 8 Fenway, Boston. It is open daily, except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, from 9.30 A. M. to 10 P. M. After 6 P. M. it is open for members only.

President, Geo. B. Shattuck, M. D.
Vice-President—J. L. Hildreth, M. D.
Secretary—O. F. Wardsworth, M. D.
Treasurer—W. H. Prescott, M. D.
Librarian—J. W. O. Farlow, M. D.
Assistant Librarian—E. H. Brigham, M. D.

BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Copley Square, Boston. It has about 30,000 medical books. The trustees have placed a deposit station at Boston Medical Library, and has transferred about 17,000 books (books not found at present in the Medical Library). Any physician can obtain these books on presenting a library card.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE.

The library of the school, upon the first floor of the new laboratory building, consists of the reading and book room, and the librarian's office. The former contains five thousand valuable volumes, including many important works of reference.

The reading room is supplied with the current numbers of from thirty to forty of the leading homeopathic and allopathic journals. Students have the use of the reading room during term time, from 9 A. M. until 5 P. M. daily. The librarian is in attendance every day except Saturday from 11 A. M. until 3.30 P. M. to loan books, and to assist the students in their work. There is a complete card catalogue of the books, and of a large number of valuable pamphlets and monographs.

The income of a legacy left by the late Dr. Harriet K. Hunt provides a number of text-books, some of which are loaned to women students by the term when desired.

HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Medical School students who are engaged in research work may have access to the special libraries of the various departments on application to the persons in charge. These libraries are seven in number, consisting of three large combined departmental libraries in buildings B, C, and D, and four small separate departmental libraries in building E. The total number of books in all the libraries is 12,788, and of pamphlets 23,820. In addition 306 medical journals and society publications are taken, of which a few, however, are duplicates. The students have a small general medical library for their own use in their reading room in the Administration Building.

The College Library at Cambridge is open to the students of this School.

TREADWELL LIBRARY.

Massachusetts General Hospital. It contains 7,067 volumes, 3,706 pamphlets, and 77 periodicals, besides hospital records.

Grace W. Myers, Assistant Librarian.

TUFTS MEDICAL SCHOOL.

The library at the Medical School is open daily from 9.00 A. M. to 5.00 P. M., except Sundays and holidays. This library is intended to provide text-books for reference, and the latest editions of all text-books used in the school are furnished. These cannot be taken from the Reading Room. In addition, the library contains a large number of reference books in general medicine and general surgery, and in all special branches of each. These works are loaned to the student free of charge, and can be taken out. Complete files of various medical journals provide a valuable addition to the school library.

MEDICAL LABORATORIES.

BACTERIOLOGICAL LABORATORY OF THE BOSTON BOARD OF HEALTH.

Francis H. Slack, M.D., Director; Burdett L. Arms, M.D., Assistant Director. 30 Huntington Ave., Boston. Tel. B.B. 1500.

Examinations made. Any disease of a bacteriological nature will be examined for free of charge.

Hours for Receiving Specimens.—Specimens are received at the laboratory daily throughout the year from 8.30 A.M. to 6 P.M., except Sundays and legal holidays, when the hours are from 8.30 A.M. to 10 A.M., and from 1.30 P.M. to 6 P.M. After these hours, and until midnight, cultures may be sent, at the physician's expense, direct to Laboratory, and dropped through chute in the door into an incubator.

Transmission of Specimens.—Outfits for specimens from Tuberculosis, Diphtheria, Typhoid, Malaria, Ophthalmia Neanatorum, and Glanders are kept at certain drug stores appointed for the purpose, and known as "culture stations." The diphtheria outfit should be examined before leaving the culture station. If the serum is dry or liquified return the same as "not good," and ask for a fresh outfit. After the specimen is collected it may be taken or sent directly to the laboratory. If preferred, specimens from cases of Tuberculosis, Diphtheria, and Glanders may be returned to the station from which the outfits were obtained. They must not be mailed under any circumstances. If received at the culture station before its closing hour they are forwarded free to the laboratory the same day. Typhoid and Malaria specimens should not be left at the stations, but should be sent directly to the laboratory by mail. If special examinations are required the specimens should be sent by special messenger at the physician's expense, and the attention of the laboratory should be specifically called to the specimen at the time of its delivery.

Swab and Five-Hour Examinations in cases of Suspected Diphtheria.—When requested, the laboratory will examine during hours (9 A.M. to 5 P.M.; Saturdays, 9 A.M. to 12 M.; Sundays and holidays, 9 A.M. to 10 A.M.) the swabs from cases for diagnosis directly. When such an examination is desired, first make the culture as above described, then rub the swab on the suspected area in the nose or throat a second time, then return it to the swab tube without again rubbing it on the serum, and send by special messenger to the laboratory. It has been found that in about 75 per cent. of the cases finally proving positive after the ordinary incubation, a positive diagnosis can be made from the swab without waiting for incubation, thus saving from fifteen to twenty-four hours. Cultures for diagnosis brought into the laboratory before 12 M. will, excepting on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, be given a five-hour incubation, and if positive will be reported by telephone at about 5 P. M. In all cases the regular over-night incubation is made and the result reported.

Reports.—Early reports from the specimens submitted are of importance chiefly in the diphtheria diagnostic work. Everything else is subordinated to obtaining these results quickly. All positives for diagnosis, and all doubtful or unsatisfactory results where a second examination may be desirable, are reported to the physician by telephone when possible. Negative results for diagnosis, and cultures for release are not reported by telephone, except upon request. All results are reported to physicians by mail, whether telephoned or not.

The diphtheria results are usually available by 9.30 A. M., sputum and typhoid results by 11 A. M., and other examinations by 12 M. Telephone inquiries should not be made before these hours.

Persons Eligible for Examination.—Boston physicians may send specimens from patients resident within or outside of Boston. Physicians resident outside of Boston may send specimens from patients resident in Boston. When both physician and patient reside outside of Boston specimens should be sent to the State Board of Health.

NUTRITION LABORATORY OF THE CARNEGIE INSTITUTION.

Villa Street, Boston (Longwood). Tel. Brookline 2035.

Director—Francis G. Benedict, Ph. D.

This Laboratory was completed in 1908. At present the experiments conducted have been on normal subjects. It is expected that in the very near future the experiments will be conducted on pathological subjects. During last year Pashutin's Discussion on Metabolism has been translated from the Russian under the auspices of the laboratory, also Monographs of Likhachev, Kartashefsky's, Awrow. As most of the Metabolic work has been done in Russia by Russian experimenters and their results recorded in Russian, the translation of these works into English marks quite an addition to the laboratory.

Said board shall take cognizance of the interests of health and life among the citizens of the commonwealth, make sanitary investigations and inquiries relative to the causes of disease, and especially of epidemics, the sources of mortality and effects of localities, employments, conditions and circumstances on the public health, and relative to the sale of drugs and food and the adulterations thereof; and shall gather such information relative thereto as it considers proper for diffusion among people. It shall advise the government relative to the location and other sanitary conditions of any public institutions; and shall have oversight of inland waters, sources of water supply and vaccine institutions, and may, for the use of the people of the commonwealth, produce and distribute antitoxin, and vaccine lymph. It shall annually examine all main outlets of sewers and drainage of cities and towns of the commonwealth, and the effect of sewage disposal, and shall annually report thereon to the general court, with such recommendations for the protection of the interests of persons and property and for the prevention of offensive odors and objectionable conditions as it considers expedient.

During the legislative session of 1907, the most important act which was passed pertaining to the duties of the Board was chapter 537, which follows:—

CHAPTER 537.

An Act to Provide for the Establishment of Health Districts and the Appointment of Inspectors of Health.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The state board of health shall, as soon as may be after the passage of this act, divide the Commonwealth into not more than fifteen districts, to be known as health districts, in such manner as it may deem necessary or proper for carrying out the purposes of this act.

Section 2. After the division aforesaid has been made, the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, shall appoint in each health district one practical and discreet person, learned in the science of medicine and hygiene, to be state inspector of health in that district. Every nomination for such office shall be made at least seven days prior to the appointment. The said state inspectors of health shall hold their offices for a period of five years from the time of their respective appointments, but shall be liable to removal from office by the governor and council at any time.

Section 3. Every state inspector of health shall inform himself respecting the sanitary condition of his district and concerning all influences dangerous to the public health or threatening to affect the same; he shall gather all information possible concerning the prevalence of tuberculosis and other diseases dangerous to the public health within his district, shall disseminate knowledge as to the best methods of preventing the spread of such diseases, and shall take such steps as, after consultation with the state board of health and local state authorities, shall be deemed advisable for their eradication; he shall inform himself concerning the health of all minors employed in factories within his district, and, whenever he may deem it advisable or necessary, he shall call the ill health or physical unfitness of any minor to the attention of his or her parents or employers and of the state board of health.

Section 4. The state inspectors of health shall be under the general supervision of the state board of health and shall perform such duties other than those hereby imposed upon them as the said board from time to time shall determine. They shall keep a record of their proceedings and observations, shall annually make a report of the same to said board on or before the thirty-first day of October, shall from time to time furnish said board with such information as it may require touching circumstances affecting the public health in their respective districts, and shall in every instance where written suggestions are made by them to the local authorities send copies of such suggestions to said board.

Section 5. The state inspectors of health shall, under the direction of the state board of health and in place of the inspection department of the district police, enforce the provisions and the powers and duties heretofore conferred and imposed upon the members of said inspection department of the district police in respect to the foregoing sections and acts, and in respect to any other laws, are hereby conferred and imposed upon said state inspectors of health or such other officers as the state board of health may from time to time appoint: provided, however, that neither said board of health nor any inspector thereof shall have authority to require structural alterations to be made in buildings, but shall report the necessity therefor to the inspection department of the district police.

Should one or both eyes of an infant become inflamed, swollen and red, and show an unnatural discharge at any time within two weeks after its birth, it shall be the duty of the nurse, relative or other attendant having charge of such infant to report in writing within six hours thereafter, to the board of health of a city or town in which the parents of the infant reside, the fact that such inflammation, swelling and redness of the eyes and unnatural discharge exist. STATE BOARD OF INSANITY OF MASSACHUSETTS.

It has charge of Worcester State Hospital, Taunton State Hospital, Northampton State Hospital, Danvers State Hospital, Worcester State Asylum, Westborough State Hospital, Foxborough State Hospital, Medfield State Asylum, Monson State Hospital, Gardner State Colony, Wrentham State School and Boston State Hospital.

Commitments and Admissions.

Section 28. The state board of insanity shall divide the state into districts which it may change from time to time, from each of which the insane, epileptic and feeble-minded shall be committed to certain specified state hospitals or schools, except such as are committed to the Westborough state hospital under the provisions of section thirty-five, or to any state hospital when the expense of their support is paid by themselves or their friends, or upon the written approval of the said board, and also except such as may be committed or admitted to the McLean Hospital, or to any licensed private hospital or house.

Section 29. Either of the judges of probate for the county of Suffolk, the judge of probate for the county of Nantucket or a justice of a police, district or municipal court, except the municipal court of the city of Boston, within his county, may commit to any hospital or receptacle for the insane, public or private, designated by the state board of insanity, in accordance with the provisions of the preceding section, any insane person then residing or being in said county, who in his opinion is a proper subject for its treatment or custody. No special justice of a police, district or municipal court shall make a commitment except in case of the absence or incapacity of the justice, or other emergency.

Section 30. No person shall be committed to any hospital or receptacle for the insane, public or private, unless there has been filed with the judge a certificate of the insanity of such person by two physicians as provided in section thirty-two, nor without an order therefor, signed by one of the judges named in the preceding section, stating that the judge finds that the person committed is insane and is a proper subject for treatment in a hospital for the insane and either that he has been an inhabitant of the commonwealth for the six months immediately preceding such finding or that provision satisfactory to the state board of insanity has been made for his maintenance or that by reason of insanity he would be dangerous if at large. The order of commitment shall also authorize the custody of the insane person either at the hospital to which he shall first be committed or at some other hospital or receptacle to which he may be transferred. Said judge shall see and examine the alleged insane person, or state in his final order the reason why it was not considered necessary or advisable so to do. The hearing, unless a jury is summoned, shall be at such place as the judge shall appoint. In all cases the judge shall certify in what place the insane person resided at the time of his commitment; or if the commitment is ordered by a court, the court shall certify in what place the insane person resided at the time of the arrest upon the charge for which he was held to answer before such a court; and such certificate shall, for the purposes of the preceding section, be conclusive evidence of his residence.

Section 31. If in the opinion of the judge additional medical testimony as to the mental condition of the alleged insane person is desirable, he may appoint a third physician to examine and report thereon. The fee for making such examination and report shall be the same as is provided for making a certificate under the provisions of section forty-eight.

Section 32. A physician shall not make a certificate of insanity unless he makes oath that he is a graduate of a legally chartered medical school or college, that he has been in the actual practice of medicine for three years since his graduation and for three years last preceding the making of said oath, and that he is registered in accordance with the provisions of chapter seventy-six of the Revised Laws, nor unless his standing, character and professional knowledge of insanity are satisfactory to the judge. A physician who makes such certificate shall have examined the alleged insane person within five days of his signing and making oath to the certificate, and shall state therein that in his opinion such person is insane and a proper subject for treatment in a hospital for the insane, and the facts on which his opinion is based. A copy of the certificate, attested by the judge, shall be delivered with the insane person to the superintendent of the hospital or receptacle to which the person shall have been committed, to be kept on file with the order of commitment, and he shall forthwith transmit to the state board of insanity copies of such certificate, of the statement required by the provisions of section thirty-three and of the order of commitment. A certificate bearing date more than ten days prior to the commitment of any person alleged to be insane shall be void, and no certificate shall be valid or received in evidence if signed by a physician holding any office or appointment, other than that of consulting or advisory physician, in a hospital or receptacle for the insane to which such person is committed.

Section 33. Upon every application for the commitment or admission of a person as a patient to an institution described in section seven a statement in a form prescribed by the state board of insanity shall be filed with the application, or within ten days after the commitment or admission, giving as nearly as can be ascertained the facts therein required. A copy of the statement shall be transmitted to the superintendent of the institution and filed with the order of commitment or the application for admission. The superintendent shall in the case of insane persons, within two days after the reception of such patient, send notice of his commitment or admission by mail, postage prepaid, to all persons whose addresses appear on the said statement, and to any other two persons whom the patient may designate.

Section 34. After hearing such evidence as he may consider sufficient, the judge may, either before or after the certificate required by section thirty has been filed, issue a warrant for the apprehension and bringing before him of the alleged insane person, if in his judgment the condition or conduct of such person renders it necessary or proper so to do. The warrant may be directed to and served by a qualified officer or by a private person named in the warrant; and pending examination and hearing such order may be made relative to the care, custody or confinement of such alleged insane person as the judge shall see fit.

Section 35. In making a commitment of an insane person, the judge shall inquire of the applicant for his commitment whether he desires the insane person to be treated according to homeopathic principles of medicine, and if he does, such insane person shall be committed to the Westborough state hospital in preference to any other place, if that hospital is capable of receiving him; and inmates of other state hospitals for the insane desiring homeopathic treatment, or for whom such treatment is desired by their families or by the applicant for their commitment, may be transferred by the state board of insanity to the Westborough state hospital.

Section 36. The judge may, in his discretion, issue a warrant to the sheriff or his deputy, directing him to summon a jury of six men to hear and determine whether the alleged insane person is insane.

Section 37. The jurors shall be selected in equal numbers from the place in which the trial is had and one or two adjoining places, as the judge shall order. The jurors shall be selected and impaneled as provided in chapter forty-eight of the Revised Laws, and in the counties of Suffolk and Nantucket they may all be taken from one place.

Section 38. The judge shall preside at such trial, and administer to the jury an oath faithfully and impartially to try the issue, and the verdict of the jury shall be final.

Section 39. If by reason of challenges or otherwise there is not a full jury of the persons summoned, the judge shall cause the officer who served the summons, or in his absence the officer attending the jury, to return persons to supply the deficiency; and shall have the same authority as the supreme judicial court to enforce the attendance of jurors and witnesses and to impose fines for non-attendance.

Section 40. The officer who summons and attends the jury shall receive therefor four cents a mile for all necessary travel, ane one dollar and fifty cents for each day that he attends upon them; and the jurors and witnesses shall be entitled to such compensation as is prescribed for jurors and witnesses in the supreme judicial court.

Section 41. Each judge shall keep a docket or record of the causes relative to insane persons coming before him, numbered or otherwise properly designated, and the disposition thereof. He shall also receive and keep on file the original application, statement of applicant and certificate of physicians, and the copy of the order of commitment, attested by, and with the return thereon of, the officer or other person serving the same. Said docket or record and other documents required to be kept as above shall be transmitted, on the death, resignation or removal of the judge, to his successor in office.

Section 42. The superintendent or manager of any hospital for the insane, public or private, may without an order of a judge as provided in sections twenty-nine and thirty, receive into his custody and detain in such hospital for not more than five days any person whose case is certified to be one of violent and dangerous insanity or of other emergency by two physicians qualified as provided in section thirty-two by a certificate conforming in all respects to the provisions of said section, which certificate may be filed with a judge, as the certificate required by section thirty. The officers required by section eighty-six, or any member of the district police shall upon the request of the applicant or of one of the said physicians, cause the arrest and delivery of such a person to such superintendent or manager. The person applying for such an admission shall within five days cause the alleged insane person to be committed or removed from the hospital, and failing thereof be liable to the hospital for the expenses incurred and to a penalty of fifty dollars, which may be recovered by the hospital in an action of contract.

Section 43. If a person is found by two physicians, qualified as provided in section thirty-two to be in such mental condition that his commitment to a hospital for the insane is necessary for his proper care or observation, he may be committed by any of the judges mentioned in section twenty-nine to a state hospital for the insane or to the McLean Hospital, under such limitations as the judge may direct, pending the determination of his insanity.

Section 44. The superintendent of any state hospital for the care, treatment or observation of the insane and the McLean Hospital may receive for temporary care, not exceeding seven days, any person suffering from mental disease, on the written application of his natural or legal guardian or, if there be none, upon the written application of a chief or captain of police, any member of the district police, a selectman, the state board of charity or the state board of insanity, together with the certificate of a physician qualified as provided in section thirty-two, that such temporary care is necessary by reason of mental disease. The person applying for such an admission shall within seven days cause the patient to be committed, provided he does not sign a request to remain under the provisions of section forty-five, or to be removed from the hospital, and failing thereof shall be liable to the hospital for the expenses incurred and to a penalty of fifty dollars, which may be recovered by the hospital in an action of contract.

Section 45. The superintendent or manager of any institution, public or private, to which an insane person may be committed, may receive and detain therein as a boarder and patient any person who is desirous of submitting himself to treatment, and who makes written application therefor and whose mental condition is such as to render him competent to make the application. Such person shall not be detained for more than three days after having given notice in writing of his intention or desire to leave the institution. The charges for the support of such person in a state institution shall be governed by the provisions of law applicable to the support of an insane person in such institution, provided the approval of the state board of insanity shall be obtained in writing.

Section 46. If a patient is received into any such institution under the provisions of the four next preceding sections, the superintendent or manager thereof shall give immediate notice of such reception to the state board of insanity, stating all the particulars of the case.

Section 47. If a woman is committed to an institution under the supervision of the board, the committing magistrate shall, unless she is accompanied by a father, husband, brother or son, designate a woman to be an attendant or one of the attendants to accompany her thereto.

Section 48. Except as is otherwise provided the compensation of the judges, physicians and officers taking part in the commitment or admission of persons to institutions described in section seven in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be as follows:—The judge if required to go from his office or place of business to see and examine the person committed or admitted, shall be allowed all necessary expenses of travel. If a special justice hears and determines the application he shall receive compensation at the rate provided in section sixty-nine of chapter one hundred and sixty of the Revised Laws: provided, however, that he shall not receive more than four dollars and the necessary expense of travel for each commitment. The fee for each physician making a certificate shall be four dollars, and twenty cents for each mile traveled one way. The fees for officers serving process shall be the same as are allowed by law in like cases.

Section 49. All necessary expenses attending the apprehension, examination, trial, commitment or delivery of an alleged insane, epileptic or feeble-minded person, dipsomaniac, inebriate or one addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants, shall, if the commitment is to a state institution for such persons, be allowed and certified by the judge and presented as often as once a year to the county commissioners, who shall examine and audit the same; and all necessary expenses attending the apprehension, examination or trial of any such person who if a commitment had been made would have been committed to a state institution for such person, when allowed in the discretion of the judge and certified by him and presented and audited as herein provided, and all expenses of examination and delivery of persons mentioned in section fifty-eight of this act when certified by a judge authorized by law to make commitments in the county in which such person is an inhabitant shall be paid by the county in which such person is an inhabitant. If the person is an inmate of an institution at the time of his commitment, such expenses shall be repaid to such county by the county in which he resided at the time of his admission to the institution, or, if he had no residence, by the county from which he was sent to the institution; and the necessary expenses of returning to a state institution a person temporarily absent therefrom, under the provisions of section seventy-five, shall be paid by such person or his guardian, relative or friend if of sufficient ability, or may be paid by such county, if a new commitment of such person would otherwise be necessary. If application is made for the commitment of a person whose expenses and support are not to be paid by the commonwealth, the said expenses shall be paid by the applicant or by a person in his behalf.

Dipsomaniacs, Inebriates, Etc.—Sections 50-56.

Section 50. Any of the judges named in section twenty-nine may commit to the Foxborough state hospital, the McLean Hospital, or to a private licensed hospital or house, any male, or to any hospital or licensed receptacle, for the insane, public or private, except the Foxborough state hospital, any female, who is subject to dipsomania or inebriety either in public or private or who is so addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants as to have lost the power of self control; but no such commitment shall be made until satisfactory evidence is presented to the judge by whom the proceedings for commitment are heard that such person is not of bad repute or of bad character apart from such habits of intemperance. The magistrate who receives the application for such commitment shall examine on oath the applicant and all other witnesses, shall reduce the application to writing and cause it to be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant. He shall cause a summons and copy of the application to be served upon such person in the manner provided by section twenty-five of chapter two hundred and seventeen of the Revised Laws. Such person shall be entitled to a hearing, unless after receiving said summons he shall in writing waive a hearing; and in that case the magistrate may issue an order for his immediate commitment to said hospital without such hearing if he is of the opinion that such person is a proper subject for its treatment and custody. The commitment may be made forthwith, if the examining physician certifies the case to be one of emergency. A person committed as aforesaid may be detained for two years from the date of his commitment and no longer.

Section 51. A person may appeal from the order of commitment as a dipsomaniac or inebriate, or as addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants, to the superior court, sitting for criminal business in the county from which he is committed, in the manner provided by section twenty-eight of chapter one hundred and fifty-seven of the Revised Laws, but he shall be held in such hospital to abide the final order of the court until he recognizes in the manner provided in section twenty-two of chapter two hundred and nineteen of the Revised Laws, as amended. Upon such appeal the judge who ordered the commitment may bind the witnesses by recognizance as provided in chapter two hundred and seventeen of the Revised Laws, and shall make a copy of the order of commitment and other proceedings in the case and transmit the same with the recognizance, if any, to the clerk of the superior court. If the appellant so requests, an issue or issues shall be framed and submitted to a jury in the superior court.

Section 52. If the appellant fails to enter and prosecute his appeal he shall be defaulted on his recognizance, and the superior court may enter an order in like manner as if he had been ordered to be committed by that court; and process may issue, if necessary, to bring him into court to be recommitted.

Section 53. The appellant may at any time before the copy of the proceedings has been transmitted to the superior court be brought personally before the judge from whose order the appeal was taken, and, at his request, may be permitted by the judge in his discretion to withdraw his appeal and abide by the order of said judge, who shall order that the appellant comply with the order appealed from in the same manner as if it were then imposed.

Section 54. Any person who is a dipsomaniac or inebriate or addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants, who is desirous of submitting himself for treatment in the Foxborough state hospital, or any hospital for the insane, or any hospital or receptacle licensed under the provisions of section twenty-four and makes written application therefor, may be received by the trustees, superintendent or manager of such hospital or receptacle and detained therein as a boarder and patient. Such person shall not be detained for more than three days after having given notice in writing of his intention or desire to leave the institution. The trustees of said school shall annually prepare and send to the state board of insanity a written or printed report of its proceedings, income and expenditures, properly classified, for the year ending on the thirtieth day of November, stating the amount appropriated by the commonwealth, the amount expended under such appropriation, the whole number and the average number of inmates, the number and salaries of officers and employees, and such other information as the board may require.

Section 61. The Massachusetts School for the Feeble-Minded and the Wrentham State School shall each maintain a school department for the instruction and education of feeble-minded persons who are within the school age or who in the judgment of the trustees thereof are capable of being benefited by school instruction, and a custodial department for the care and custody of feeble-minded persons beyond the school age or not capable of being benefited by school instruction.

MASSACHUSETTS BOARD OF REGISTRATION IN MEDICINE.

Organized July, 1894. Office, State House, Boston.

Applicants are admitted to examinations by an "examination ticket," showing the date of the examination and the holder's number, which are issued when applications are filed. Rejected applicants entitled to a re-examination are given tickets if applied for not later than five days before the examination date. Examinations are conducted in the English language only.

In the examinations held this year the Board has made a beginning in conducting them along the lines of practical work in microscopy, in the laboratory and in demonstrations on the manikin. A mixed examination, written, oral and practical, is best calculated to insure an actual test of one's qualifications to enter upon the practice of medicine. Such an examination shows not only what one knows, but what he can do. It also brings to the front the weak points in medical schools which still cling principally to the old system of lecture-room instruction.

Examinations are held on the second Tuesday in March, July and November. Special examinations have been held this year in May and September, as in previous years.

The time devoted to each examination is three days. The questions are grouped in seven sets, and the answers are rated on a scale of 0 to 100. When general averages fall below 75 per centum, examinations are classed unsatisfactory.

The questions are intended to be practical, and to cover substantially the instruction in the high-grade medical schools in this country. The subjects on which the examinations are principally conducted are anatomy and histology, physiology and hygiene, pathology and bacteriology, surgery, obstetrics and gynaecology, diagnosis and therapeutics, and pediatrics and toxicology.

Applicants who furnish satisfactory evidence of having conducted a reputable practice for ten years or more are frequently admitted to an examanination largely oral. It is the opinion of the Board that such an examination for old practitioners is best adapted to meet the requirements of the law, and is far more likely to be just to them.

Previous to two years ago the Board admitted applicants who had received their medical training in foreign schools, and who could neither speak nor write the English language. Such applicants were allowed to write their papers in their own language, on condition that they would pay the cost of translations secured by the Board for the purpose of rating; but there being some doubt as to the legality of examinations conducted in this manner, the opinion of the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth was requested. His opinion being adverse to such procedure, only those who can speak and write English are admitted.

Since the organization of this department, the Board has issued 8,680 certificates of registration.

The number of names now in the card catalogue is approximately 7,850. The difference between the number of names in the catalogue and the number of certificates of registration issued represents the number (828) of registered persons who have died since the organization of the Board. It should not be understood, however, that the names in the catalogue represent definitely the number of practitioners in the Commonwealth at the present time. Many have settled in other States. The approximate number of physicians in the State at present is 6,150 —a ratio of 1-500 of the inhabitants.

Law Relating to the Registration of Physicians in Massachusetts.

(Revised Laws, Chapter 76, Sections 1-9.)

Section 1. There shall be a board of registration in medicine consisting of seven persons, residents of this commonwealth, who shall be graduates of a legally chartered medical college or university having the power to confer degrees in medicine, and who shall have been for ten years actively employed in the practice of their profession. No member of said board shall belong to the faculty of any medical college or university, and no more than three members thereof shall at one time be members of any one chartered state medical society. One member thereof shall annually in June be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, for a term of seven years from the first day of July following.

Section 2. Said board shall hold regular meetings on the second Tuesday of March, July and November of each year, and additional meetings at such times and places as it may determine. At the regular meeting in July, it shall organize by the choice of a chairman and secretary who shall hold their offices for the term of one year. The secretary shall give a bond to the treasurer and receiver-general in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, with sufficient sureties to be approved by the governor and council, for the faithful performance of his official duties.

Section 3. Applications for registration shall be made upon blanks to be furnished by the board, and shall be signed and sworn to by the applicants. Each applicant for registration shall furnish satisfactory proof that he is twenty-one years of age or over and of good moral character and, upon payment of a fee of twenty dollars, shall be examined by said board. If he is found by four or more members thereof to be twenty-one years of age or over, of good moral character and qualified, he shall be registered as a qualified physician and shall receive a certificate thereof signed by the chairman and secretary. An applicant who fails to pass an examination satisfactory to the board, and is therefore refused registration, shall be entitled within one year after such refusal to a re-examination at a meeting of the board called for the examination of applicants, without the payment of an additional fee; but two such re-examinations shall exhaust his privilege under his original application. Said board, after hearing, may by unanimous vote revoke any certificate issued by it and cancel the registration of any physician who has been convicted of a felony or of any crime in the practice of his profession. All fees received by the board shall, once in each month, be paid by its secretary into the treasury of the commonwealth.

Section 6. The board shall investigate all complaints of the violation of the provisions of section eight, and report the same to the proper prosecuting officers.

Section 7. Examinations shall be wholly or in part in writing in the English language, and shall be of a scientific and practical character. They shall include the subjects of anatomy, surgery, physiology, pathology, obstetrics, gynaecology, practice of medicine and hygiene, and shall be sufficiently thorough to test the applicant's fitness to practise medicine.

Section 8. Whoever, not being lawfully authorized to practise medicine within this commonwealth and registered as aforesaid, holds himself out as a practitioner of medicine, or practises or attempts to practise medicine in any of its branches, or whoever practises medicine or surgery under a false or assumed name, or under a name other than that by which he is registered, or whoever personates another practitioner of a like or different name, shall, for each offence, be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for three months. or by both such fine and imprisonment. In a case in which a provision of this or the preceding section has been violated, the person who committed the violation shall not recover compensation for services rendered.

Section 9. The provisions of the preceeding sections shall not be held to discriminate against any particular school or system of medicine, to prohibit medical or surgical service in a case of emergency or to prohibit the domestic administration of family remedies. They shall not apply to a commissioned medical officer of the United States army, navy or marine hospital service in the performance of his official duty; to a physician or surgeon from another state who is a legal practitioner in the state in which he resides, when in actual consultation with a legal practitioner of this commonwealth; to a physician or surgeon residing in another state and legally qualified to practise therein, whose general practice extends into the border towns of this commonwealth, if such physician does not open an office or designate a place in such towns where he may meet patients or receive calls; to a physician authorized to practise medicine in another state when he is called as the family physician to attend a person temporarily abiding in this commonwealth; nor to registered pharmacists in prescribing gratuitously, osteopathists, pharmacists, clairvoyants, or persons practising hypnotism, magnetic healing, mind cure, massage, Christian science or cosmopathic method of healing, if they do not violate any of the provisions of section eight.

THE MASSACHUSETTS STATE HOSPITAL.

Tewksbury, Mass.

Established in May, 1852, as the State Almshouse. On May 23, 1900, the name of the institution was changed, by an Act of the Legislature, to State Hospital.

The first Hospital for Consumptive Men was opened in 1900. Prior to this, the patients, with the exception of a few small wards, were all housed in very large wards and dormitories, containing fifty or more patients each, and the consumptives were separate as far as was possible, but yet were of necessity moving in and out around the other patients much of the time.

The management is vested in a Board of seven Trustees appointed by the Governor. The State Board of Charity and the State Board of Insanity have supervisory powers over their respective departments.

The function of the State Hospital is to care for those indigent persons, sick, feeble or in distress, within its Commonwealth, who have no legal residence in any of its cities and towns.

It is supported by yearly appropriations by the State Legislature, and all expenses are paid by the State Treasurer. No charges for board or treatment are made by the Hospital.

The admission to the Hospital is obtained by application to the local Overseers of the Poor, who are empowered to issue permits for admission, or by the State Board of Charity, or by a transfer by the State Board of Insanity in cases of insane patients.

The patients in the State Hospital are classified and cared for in departments as follows: Department for the Insane, capacity 700; General Hospital Department, capacity 600; House Department, capacity 800; Hospital for Consumptives, capacity 300; Total, 2400.

The visiting hours are from 10 o'clock until 4 o'clock every day except Sundays and holidays.

The Trustees are the following: Joseph A. Smart, Chairman, Andover; Rev. Payson W. Lyman, Sec'y, Fall River; Mrs. Sarah D. Fiske, Malden; Mrs. Anna F. Prescott, Dorchester; Leonard Huntress, M. D., Lowell; John B. Tivnan, Salem; Emery M. Low, Brockton.

The Massachusetts State Sanatorium for the treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis (Consumption of the Lungs) is located in Rutland, Mass., on the Central Massachusetts Railroad, eleven miles from Worcester, about twelve hundred feet above sea level. It is built on the pavilion plan and accommodates three hundred and fifty patients.

The primary object of the Institution is the arrest of the disease, and only such patients will be admitted as are deemed not too far advanced for reasonable hope of radical improvement. The Sanatorium is not a home for the hopelessly sick; the purpose being to give sanatorium treatment only.

Residents of Massachusetts only are admitted, preference being given to citizens of the United States.

Patients who do not improve after a stay in the Sanitorium sufficiently long to test the effects of treatment will be advised not to remain, and their friends will be expected to arrange their removal.

The charge for board and treatment will be uniform at the rate of four dollars ($4.00) per week. No private patients are received. Payment of board must be assured before applicants will be admitted.

In consideration of the nominal charge made for board and treatment all patients who are physically able are expected to do some work daily under medical supervision.

The classification of applicants is that adopted by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, viz.— Class I (Incipient, Favorable)—Class II (Moderately Advanced)—Class III (Far Advanced).

Applicants of the first class are usually admitted at once. Those of the second class are admitted if there are not enough of the first class applying to fill the beds, if in the judgment of the admitting physician the treatment at the Sanatorium will materially benefit them. Those of the third class are not admitted nor are they advised that at any future time they will be admitted.

Applicants must in all cases be examined by one of the official examiners whose names and addresses are as follows:—

Boston, at the New Out-Patient Department of the Massachusetts General Hospital on North Grove Street (off Cambridge Street, near Charles Street, West End), examinations are made on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 1:30 to 3 o'clock P. M.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. Any person who was actively engaged in the practice of osteopathy in this commonwealth prior to the first day of January, nineteen hundred and nine, and who shall present to the board of registration in medicine satisfactory evidence that he is twenty-one years of age and of good moral character, and that he is a graduate in good standing of, and holds a diploma from, a regularly conducted school or college of osteopathy within the United States, which at the time of his graduation required a course of study of twenty months or longer, including the subjects of anatomy, physiology, pathology, hygiene, chemistry, gynecology, diagnosis and theory and the practice of osteopathy, with an actual attendance of not less than twenty months, or who has practiced osteopathy in this commonwealth for the four years prior to the passage of this act, which facts shall be set forth in an affidavit, shall upon application on a blank furnished by the said board, signed and sworn to by the applicant, and upon payment of a fee of ten dollars, be registered as an osteopath, and a certificate in testimony thereof shall be given to him, signed by the chairman and secretary of said board; provided, that such application shall be made on or before the thirtieth day of September, nineteen hundred and nine, after which date all action under this section shall cease.

Section 2. Any person who is twenty-one years of age and of good moral character, and who shall have been actually engaged in the practice of osteopathy in this commonwealth prior to the first day of January, nineteen hundred and nine, may, upon the payment of a fee of ten dollars, make application to said board to be examined in the subjects named in section one: provided, that such application is made on or before September thirtieth, nineteen hundred and nine. The terms "osteopathy" and "osteopathic," as used in this act or in relation to the registration and practice of osteopathic physicians, shall have the same legal construction and meaning as the terms "medicine" and "medical" as used in chapter seventy-six of the Revised Laws and in acts in amendment thereof, where such construction and meaning shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of section three of this act.

Section 6. Section nine of chapter seventy-six of the Revised Laws is hereby amended by striking out the word "osteopathists," in the eighteenth line.

WARREN ANATOMICAL MUSEUM.

The Warren Anatomical Museum was founded in 1847 by John Collins Warren, of the College Class of 1797, Adjunct Professor of Anatomy and Surgery from 1809 to 1815, Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery from 1815 to 1847, Professor Emeritus from 1847 to his death in 1856, son of John Warren, the first Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery. This important Museum is open to students in the School, and its collections are used in demonstration of lectures. It occupies the upper three floors of the Administration Building. Its Curator is Dr. William Fiske Whitney.

The collection has about nine thousand specimens, illustrating both normal and pathological anatomy and materia medica. Students may have access to these specimens at any time upon application to the Curator.

Besides dissections and serial sections of many bones, the anatomical collection includes many corrosion preparations, plaster and papier mache models of bones, organs, and various parts of the body, and frozen sections.

The pathological collection is being constantly enlarged by the addition of numerous specimens, preserved in their natural colors by Kaiserling's method.

WARREN TRIENNIAL PRIZE.

The Warren Triennial Prize was founded by the late Dr. J. Mason Warren in memory of his father, and his will provides that the accumulated interest of the fund shall be awarded every three years to the best dissertation, considered worthy of a premium on some subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathological Anatomy; the arbitrators being the Physicans and Surgeons of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

The subject for competition for the year 1910 is on some Special Subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathology.

Dissertations must be legibly written, and must be suitably bound, so as to be easily handled. The name of the writer must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, on which must be written a motto corresponding with one on the accompanying dissertation. Work which has already been published will not be received in competition.

Any clue given by the dissertation, or any action on the part of the writer which reveals his name before the award of the prize, will disqualify him from receiving the same.

Essays must be typewritten in English, French or German.

The amount of the prize for the year 1910 will be $500.

In case no dissertation is considered sufficiently meritorious, no award will be made. A high value will be placed on original work.

As the normal term of pregnancy is about 10 lunar months, or about 280 days, this table shows at a glance the beginning and end of every 280-day period throughout the year. Find the date of the last menstruation on the upper line of the horizontal row, and the figure below, with the indicated month, will be the 280th day.

COWS' MILK AS FOOD

Modified cows' milk for infant feeding is one of the most valuable therapeutic agents a physician can have. The compounding of a milk prescription should be done just as carefully and be prepared with as much accuracy as a drug prescription. The physician should not be limited in writing formulae and should be certain that he is getting pure and clean cows' milk.

In the preparation of our modified milk we meet those requirements. We fill any milk prescription with great accuracy and spare no pains to deliver a pure, clean and safe product.

Hood's Chemical and Bacteriological Laboratory, Showing Nursery Milk Department.

We obtain our milk from selected, mixed herds of tuberculin-tested cows, and take great care to get a milk of a low bacterial content. The modifications are made in the afternoon with the morning's milk. In home modification the formula obtained is rarely exact, because there is seldom means of analyzing the ingredients used. Daily analyses made in our laboratory assure accuracy of the resulting mixture. Again, in home modification the possibilities of contamination are great, since milk must stand for cream to rise, and one is never sure of the aseptic technic used in the kitchen; moreover, there is the possibility that the milk is not safe to use.

To prevent contamination we sterilize all utensils used in making the modifications, including bottles and cases, by means of live steam under pressure. As a further precaution we employ men who are especially trained for this work and have had the responsibility of their positions emphasized to them. A physician examines the men weekly, or more often if necessary, to eliminate the possibility of their having any contagious or infectious disease. Clean white suits and caps are furnished daily.

As stated the average kitchen is not always as clean as the physician could wish for the preparation of such an important dietary article as modified milk. We have set apart an exquisitely tiled room, directly connected with our Chemical and Bacteriological Laboratory, that we use exclusively for this purpose, in which the air is as sterile as that in the average surgical operating room.

Finally, we make daily bacterial counts to keep absolute control over the quality of the milk as it reaches the patient. Space here will not allow a description of these results in detail. No other laboratory is producing a cleaner, purer, safer or more accurately modified milk.

The results obtained by the use of this milk as a substitute for breast milk are proof of its superior quality and its value in infant feeding.

The price charged by some laboratories for modified milk has made home modification necessary. In view of the great care taken in the production of Hood's Modified Milk, our prices, hardly one-half those charged by some, are worthy of careful attention.

However, some physicians are better satisfied with home modification. For this purpose we are distributing on all regular Hood milk teams milk certified by the Suffolk District Milk Commission.

As there are many people who cannot afford to pay the price of Certified Milk and still feel they would like to have a very high grade milk we recommend that of Hood Farm. This is produced at our own farm from tuberculin-tested cows kept under strict veterinary supervision, and is bottled there.

Its chemical constitution rarely varies and its bacterial content is much lower than the requirements for Certified Milk.

Our Buttermilk and fat free milk will be found useful in many cases of feeding. The therapeutic value of Hood's buttermilk has long been recognized and it has been used with success in one of the large Boston hospitals. This milk is ripened with a pure culture of a lactic acid bacillus which has been selected on account of the delicate flavor it produces and for its inhibitory action on the intestinal saprophites. It is really a pure culture of a lactic acid bacillus in fat free milk, thus being of advantage in two ways.

The importance of fat free milk in treating certain gastrointestinal disturbances in infants and children is becoming more and more prominent. We are now preparing this milk from selected, tuberculin-tested cows. It is handled under strict sanitary precautions and bottled in sterile jars.

In conclusion we wish to emphasize the importance of our Score-card System of sanitary dairy inspection. This system has been found to be the best means of obtaining a clean, pure milk. In carrying out this procedure our own men, especially trained for this purpose, inspect the dairies and record the results of their observations on a score-card. This card deals with itemized conditions at the dairy arranged in a logical order, every detail being given a definite mathemaitcal rating.

It is evident, therefore, that the sanitary inspection of dairies and the maintenance of a laboratory form the very foundation for the production of a clean, pure and safe milk. That the large dealer who is earnestly co-operating with the medical profession and with State Boards of Health, by means of this inspection system and laboratory examination, is producing a better product than the man who lacks these facilities and does not realize the importance of his responsibility, is acknowledged by all who have investigated the facts.
